HOAGLAND'S
NEW PATENT SHAFT COUPLING!
W. E. COOPER

HAS PURCHASED THE RIGHT FOR THIS County of the above Patent, and will hereafter use it in the construction of all the Vehicles manufactured at his extensive

Carriage Factory,
Corner of Second and Morrison Streets.

He respectfully refers to the following

CARD.

Having examined the New Patent Shaft Coupling, invented by H. R. Hoagland, we feel pleasure in informing the public that in our opinion it is the safest and best method of connecting shafts or tongues to all vehicles that has ever been used.

It fastens without bolt or screw, and is therefore easily and speedily separated. It rests on Gutta Percha so as to be entirely free from the rattling sound which so often disturbs restless horses. It is easily changed so that the shafts or tongue may be detached in an instant, and is convenient, safe and secure.

It is easy to change to this style of coupling any buggy or other vehicle now in use, and with small expense. We have come to the conclusion to use this new invention ourselves and recommend its use in all cases. We consider it far superior to the Brewster Patent, heretofore considered the best in use.

[DISPATCHES TO THE OREGONIAN.]

EASTERN DATES TO JUNE 1.

Washington News.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—The public debt statement shows a decrease during May of $14,310,963; coin balance in the Treasury $100,678,731; currency, $14,243,816.

CHICAGO, June 2.—A Washington special says the Senate Committee on Territories to-day reported favorably on the bill annulling the act of the Idaho Territorial Legislature, by which a special tax is levied on the Chinese engaged in mining. The Senate will undoubtedly agree to the bill, though the Idaho Legislature would probably be set aside by the courts under the recent law giving civil rights to Chinese.

The Times' special says a meeting of the Reconstruction Committee will be held this week to finally dispose of the Georgia and Tennessee questions. The reconstruction programme of the Committee in the case of Georgia, virtually settled in the bill, is to admit the State to representation at once, and to permit the organization of the militia, but Bingham's amendment has greater strength than heretofore in the House and the Committee's bill will probably be upset. As for Tennessee, there is a decided majority in the Committee against any Congressional interference, and it is thought that the proposition to reconstruct that State is settled for this Congress at least.

Congressional.

In the Senate, the House pension bill was reported. Also without amendment the bill annulling the statutes of New Mexico, and certain statutes of Idaho, and extending the time in which pension and bounty frauds may be prosecuted.

The bill changing the judicial circuits was discussed. The 9th District is composed of California, Oregon, and Nevada. The Supreme Court Judges, except the Chief Justice, are required to resign their circuits.

The Senate held a long executive session on the Sandwich Island treaty. Stewart, Cole and Sumner were among the speakers who favored ratification. The vote resulted for ratification 20 against 19, not being a two-thirds vote the treaty was rejected. Many Senators paired.

In the House the bill reducing the internal tax was considered. During the discussion Schenck stated that it was the intention of the Committee on Ways and Means to to wipe out the custom of spies and informers. He stated that the estimate of the Treasury Department, under the existing tariff and revenue laws there will be received next year from customs $185,000,000; from internal taxes $175,000,000; from land sales $5,000,000; from miscellaneous sources $28,000,000. Total $393,000,000—a surplus of $102,000,000. Several amendments were made. The discussion on the amendment for the removal or abolition of income tax consumed several hours without action.

Ohio Convention.

COLUMBUS, June 1.—The Democratic State Convention met this forenoon. It is the smallest held for years, only 350 out of 537 delegates being present. The Convention elected temporary officers and appointed a committee on resolutions.

Accident.

NEW YORK, June 1.—A construction train on the Lackawana and Western Railroad was thrown from a trestle bridge near Paterson, N. J., today, by the breaking of the bridge. Master carpenter Campbell was killed and six other carpenters, with thirty or forty workmen, were shockingly injured. Many of them are buried in the ruins, and it is believed they will die unless speedily rescued.

New Hampshire Legislature.

CONCORD, June 1.—The Legislature organized and elected S. M. Wheeler Speaker of the House and Nathaniel Gordon, President of the Senate.

Fenian Affairs.

ST. ALBANS, June 1.—Marshal Foster found at Franklin over six tons of ammunition left by the Fenians. Three hundred Fenians passed here for New York this evening.

Chinese at New Orleans.

NEW ORLEANS, June 1.—A vessel has arrived from Hong Kong with 137 coolies.

Gen. Starr Arrested.

BUFFALO, June 1.—The Fenian Gen. Starr has been arrested and held to bail here.

Cuban Matters.

NEW YORK, June 1.—Late advices from Remedias confirm the slaughter of forty of the most respectable citizens by volunteers, in revenge for the many defeats they have suffered. Portello, the militia commander of the district, knew the butchery was meditated, but passively endorsed it.

Mr. Seward's Illness.

AUBURN, June 2.—Mr. Seward recently experienced a slight stroke of paralysis, from the effects of which he is not yet fully recovered. In order to quiet the apprehensions of his friends he attended church on Sunday, but his physical infirmity was only too apparent. His right arm is almost entirely useless, and the left somewhat affected. His voice is very thick and husky.

Californians in Chicago.

CHICAGO, May 2.—The California school teachers arrived here to-day.

New York News.

NEW YORK, June 2.—A fine cricket match was played at Hoboken between the St. George Club of New York, and the Philadelphia club. The game was not concluded, but at the close yesterday the Philadelphians were ahead.

The small pox has reappeared in Brooklyn.

The Directors of the German Immigration Society met yesterday. From the report submitted it appears that nearly 16,123 Germans were landed here during May, nearly all of whom proceeded west. During January 30,430 landed, ten thousand less than during the corresponding period last year.

BY THE CABLES.

LONDON, May 1.—Fifteen horses ran in the Derby race. Kingcraft won, Palmerston second, Muster third; the latter close up. The race was well contested.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 1.—The fearful vindictiveness of the native Christians in Roumania, a Turkish province, against the Jewish population, culminated in the wholesale butchery, on Sunday, of the Jews. A thousand men, women and children were dragged from their homes and slaughtered. The work of butchery still goes on in the interior. The authorities have made no efforts to stop the slaughter.

CALIFORNIA.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—Weather warm and pleasant.

The Boston party have all gone out to the Cliff House to breakfast and to pour water of the Atlantic into the Pacific. It is probable that Pullman will determine to send the Bos on excursion train back east on Monday morning next, and have it return for this party at the end of their time. In that case, passengers will be taken at special rates for the trip east.

Ah Jim was sent to the County Court this morning for grand larceny, and John Jones for an attempt at burglary in trying to enter a store on Sansome street last evening.

Yesterday 365 acres of the reclaimed land on Twitchell Island, were sold at an average of about $20 per acre. It is stated that the cost of reclamation and the price paid for the island did not exceed $8 per acre.

The City Hall Commissioners have called for proposals for grading Yerba Buena Plaza.

The B[oston] excursion train will be hauled up to Montgomery and Market streets for exhibition to-morrow. They will to-day visit the fortifications in the harbor, cross the bar and go out upon the bosom of the Pacific and dip up the bottle of water they brought from Boston Bay in it. On Monday next fifty of the excursionists will start for the Yosemite.

While the reported decline of American shipbuilding and commercial interests generally are being pressed in Congress, it is well not to lose sight of the fact that fourteen hundred vessels have been built in the United States since June 30, 1869—a heavy increase over the previous year; and at the present time the ship yards are busier than at any time since the close of the war. Will not the ardent friends of commerce and navigation make a note of these facts, and construct their free trade speeches accordingly.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

Vallandigham, it is said, has espoused woman's suffrage.

Congressman Beaman, of Michigan, wants to succeed Howard in the Senate.

The people of New Mexico demand the removal of Gov. Pile, for destroying the records of the Territory.

John A. Kasson carries Des Moines for the Republican nomination for Congress, as against Frank Palmer.

Ex-Gov. Henry A. Wise is spoken of as the candidate for the radical workingmen for Mayor of Richmond.

The Cleveland Labor Union is going to nominate a candidate for Congress from the 18th district, to succeed Hon. W. H. Upson.

The Delaware Republican State Convention, to nominate candidates for Governor, Congressmen, etc., is to be held in Dover on the 9th of June.

An exchange is audacious enough to declare that "woman's rights" includes the right to electioneer, drink whisky, knock people down, and vote.

A minister in Toledo, within ten months, married a couple, baptized their first child, preached the funeral sermon of the husband, and married the widow.

The Boston Traveller predicts that Grant will be re-elected, and that the present year will not run out without seeing California experience a serious shaking by an earthquake.

Ex-Governor Wells, of Virginia, it is understood, was tendered the appointment of United States District Attorney for Virginia, vice S. F. Beach, resigned, on the day he was injured by the Richmond disaster.

One of the banners carried in the procession of the rejoicing colored men in Charleston, S. C., bore the inscription, addressed to the Democrats: "We have played together, you say, but were we ever whipped together?"

If the House bill making civil and military positions incompatible passes the Senate, Generals Sickles, Parker, Porter, Babcock, Dent, and Badeau will be obliged to decide which of these branches of service they will discard.

The New York Democrats have a nice way of swindling the colored people out of their votes. In one ward about a thousand negroes had been registered, but upon going to the polls, it was discovered that their names had already been voted by the Democratic "repeaters," and the Democratic police arrested the negroes on the charge of attempting to vote twice.

Kentucky and Delaware, the two reliable Democratic States, cling with a death clutch to the last relic of barbarism—the whipping post. In the latter State the spring "season" has fairly set in, and the good people are enjoying a refreshing excitement. Now that the negroes have been enfranchised, it is expected that more enlightened views will prevail and the whipping post will soon be numbered with other brutal Democratic arguments of the past.

The Doctors are still in Washington in convention, and are quarreling—a most unusual thing for Doctors—over the question whether the business of pilling—or killing, it is all one—shall not be confined exclusively to the white men. When an association of Doctors fairly get into the midst of a scrimmage, it is hard to say what will be the end. If an appeal were to be made to us for advice, we should say, let the colored doctors mix the dose of pills for the white ones, and then let the white ones mix a dose for the colored ones. Let all swallow together, and when taken be well shaken. If there are any live Doctors left the next day, either white or black, they will be sufficiently happy over the fact to be willing to kiss and make up.

MEN AND WOMEN'S NERVES.—Some years ago, before monitors or even iron-clad ships were thought of, the enormous and now utterly useless man-of-war Pennsylvania lay at the Washington Navy-yard. Much had been expected of her, and her colossal size, and her enormous battery of 120 guns, were looked upon with pride by all "true Americans." It was determined that the President of the United States, accompanied by the members of his Cabinet, the principal officers of the army and navy, and other persons of like distinction, should visit her for an "inaugural" entertainment, and that in honor of the occasion, he and they should be saluted by a discharge of all her guns. The gentlemen were accompanied by a large number of ladies, and a more numerous and representative party was probably never gathered together on the decks of a national vessel. The salute began, and the rapid discharge of the heavy ordnance produced a remarkable effect on the civilian visitors. Very soon the men were stunned or worried, and showed strong symptoms of nervous anxiety. The women, on the contrary, to the surprise of all, showed no fear, but rather delight, and were cheerfully excited, not concealing an inclination to laugh at and crow over the nervous weakness of their masculine companions. The firing went on and became a protracted and apparently endless series of regular explosions. For the discharge of one hundred and twenty guns at intervals of only three seconds occupies six minutes, measured by three-second counts, even in silence, seems as if they would never end. But when, as in this case, each interval is marked by a roar that stuns the ears and a concussion that shakes the heavens and the earth, and fills the air with flame and smoke, the performance becomes oppressive and tries nervous endurance to the utmost. And on this occasion a striking natural phenomenon, full of moral significance, was presented to the curious student of human nature. It was observed that as gun followed gun the men, who were so disturbed at first, became quiet, self-possessed, indifferent, and at last cheerful, while the women, who at first were so filled with life and gayety, soon showed signs of weariness, then of nervous excitement, and finally of terror, looking forward with dread to the inevitable and regularly recurring shock; so that before the salute was over most of them were in a state of extreme distress, some were hysterical and some had fainted. Their nerves could bound with elasticity at a single fillip, but succumbed under repeated blows; while the masculine nature toughened under repeated resistance to the protracted strain.—Mr. Richard Grant White, in the Galaxy.

THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN VIRGINIA.—The Richmond Whig says:

We do not suppose that such a contrast was ever exhibited between two rival parties in this country as was shown in the contest for power last year between the Conservatives and Radicals of this State. In numbers they were not very far apart. In sentiment, in character and intelligence they were as distant as antipodes. On the one hand, the great mass of the white population of Virginia, comprising an accession of moderate Republicans, with their colored allies; on the other, a set mainly of deluded negroes, led on by designing adventurers. The result was a triumphant victory for the Conservatives, the election of a Governor acceptable to the people of Virginia and the Administration, the admission of the State and a rapid advance in the value of her bonds.

Not satisfied with letting well enough alone, and endeavoring to harmonize the conflicting elements as much as possible upon measures of State policy irrespective of parties, some of our journals have made a persistent attempt to force the issue of Federal politics upon us at an unseasonable time, and revive the old Democratic party. The result has been that it has played into the hands of the radical party most effectively. It has driven off the moderate members of that party from the conservatives, healed its dissensions and made it a very different organization from what it was last year. We hope that the conservatives, in the election soon to take place, will repair these evils as much as possible by the enlightened policy of conciliation and kindness. The worst injury we could inflict upon the colored race would be to give them power, which they are incapable of using, and which would soon pass from their grasp. But the course of the late Senator Bland shows that some of them may be intrusted with office without injury or loss of dignity to the Commonwealth.

A FLORIDIAN RIP VAN WINKLE.—The Hartford Post, May 13th, contains the following article:

While David Clark of this city was in Jacksonville (Fla.,) during his recent sojourn in that land of orange groves, there came into town one fine morning in February a planter from the back country, having with him a negro he wanted to sell. He said he wanted to raise a little cash, and so he brought "the boy" along to sell, and wanted to get about $1,000 for him. He was utterly unaware that there had been a war and that slavery had been abolished, and when told that such was the case thought that his informants were playing a joke on him, and for awhile refused to believe it. His plantation was in the interior, his nearest neighbor was fifty miles distant, and in all the years that have elapsed since Sumter's gun he had not heard from the outer world—knew nothing of the changes that had taken place, and came into Jacksonville in this year of our Lord, 1870, in good faith to sell a slave. Other negroes speedily informed their fellow that he was a free man, and at last the master that was let him go and departed for his plantation a sadder and wiser man.

IMMIGRATION ON BOTH SIDES OF THE CONTINENT.—The New York Herald, of May 17th, says: "Over nine thousand emigrants arrived at New York from Europe last week. We learn, too, that the Pacific mail steamer Japan, which arrived at San Francisco last Friday, brought fourteen hundred passengers, thirteen hundred of whom were Chinese emigrants. Thus the tide of population is swelling on both sides of the continent. Let the people come. There is room enough, cheap land enough, plenty of well paid employment and abundant resources for all. The United States can sustain a population of four or five hundred millions. Nor need there be any fear of admitting the various nationalities and races. We can mould them to our institutions and make them useful in developing and increasing the wealth of the country. The prospect is that within twenty years this country will be the most populous of all the civilized countries of the world, and that there are many men living who will see a hundred millions of inhabitants in the United States.

NEW FOOD.—There is being manufactured now in England from Irish sea moss an article of food which, for cheapness and excellence, comes into competition with gelatines, wheat farina, tapioca, sago, and corn starch. A quantity of the manufactured article, which costs twenty-five cents, will make sixteen pounds of healthful and pleasant food, in jellies, puddings, blanc mange, and other like purposes. We have the same description of moss on the coast of Oregon in great plenty. The time will come when an article of food will be manufactured from it equally as valuable and important to us, as that we are now speaking of is to the people of England.—Farmer.

FRIDAY MORNING JUNE 3 1870

West Side Champions

It is admitted by the organ which Mr Ladd and others have subsidized for their uses that Senator Williams was correct in alleging that the Central Pacific Company intended to build their railroad northward from California by way of Pitt river [illegible] thus depriving the Oregon and California road of southern connections and rendering that road valueless and stripping southern Oregon of all means of obtaining railroad communications Senator Williams then did a most excellent thing He prevented the Central Pacific Company from perfecting a scheme which would have placed Oregon as completely within their grasp as they now hold Nevada and California But by bringing the road through Rogue river valley the whole plan is changed while the State is provided with excellent railroad facilities Southern Oregon is well served and the Wallamet valley is furnished with railroad connections with the East on as short a route as any other

But the Herald says that though the Central Pacific Company should cause their road to diverge by way of Pitt river Mr Holladay could go on and build the road on a direct route to California He could not do so for the country is so rugged that the cost of a road would be out of all proportion to the results to be gained from building it and it could not be operated against competing lines The Herald says the west side company were willing to take the grant and build the road there Then why didn't they take it? They could have had it if Mr Ladd and others had stepped up and subscribed the stock Who composed the west side company? Those ostensibly at the head of it were men without credit or responsibility They received subscriptions of land of oats of flour, and whatever else they could induce the people to give, and pretended to think they could build a road on that basis They got some thousands of dollars illegally out of this city and a smaller sum by the same process out of the people of Washington county Mr Gaston subscribed one or two millions of stock himself, which was as broad a farce of the kind as was ever seen It was well known that the company as organized and constituted had no bottom People who have been victimized by it are cursing it If any one wants to get an idea of the feeling on this subject let him go into Washington county

But if Mr Ladd and others had given the sanction of their names to the enterprise it would have gone forward But they held back and the land grant was taken from the west side and given to a man who would build a road West side people can see from this statement how they were deprived of the grant and the immediate prospects of obtaining a road They will not fail to observe that the gentlemen who now claim to be their champions are the very ones who sold them out.

Mr Gaston and his Doings

Mr J Gaston has addressed us a letter for publication, in which he states that certain remarks made by us relative to the west side land grant are "wholly untrue" The substance of those remarks was that the parties who were at Washington last winter as representatives of west side interests agreed that the present McMinnville bill was all of value that could be accomplished We shall not publish Mr Gaston's letter for it is throughout a tissue of untrue statements, as we can prove He can print a copy in the paper with which he is understood to have been, for the past few days, editorially connected.

And now if Mr Gaston desires to enter the field with the rest of the humbug crew who have been imposing on the people of the west side in regard to railroad matters, we shall give him such an airing as will enable the people of Oregon to know him a good deal better than they do now His course throughout, as we are now aware has been one of duplicity and treachery Let him publish, if he wants to We shall publish too And we have materials at our command for making it decidedly interesting for him, if not for the public

Railroad Men

Ben Holladay is said to be a very dangerous man to Oregon Perhaps he is but he is the only man who has yet shown pluck enough to invest his money in a railroad in Oregon Some other gentlemen who are supposed to be capitalists make a great noise about railroads but it is very noticeable that they take good care not to put their money in them And others who have no money to speak of, but who sometimes try to build railroads by contributions of eggs and the like from farmers, occasionally join in making a noise too Mr Ladd and Mr Gaston can, we trust see the point and make the application As for Mr Holladay we are not aware that he has ever deceived the people of Oregon in any particular He has cheated none of them and is pushing on a great enterprise in a legitimate way If those who are assailing his undertaking and trying to get up schemes to break it down had been real friends of the west side enterprise and backed it up there would now be a west side road in operation

Stand Fast

The din and uproar of the fight over rival interests other than political however hot that fight may become can never cause true Republicans who are attached to their principles and who act according to their convictions of duty to forget themselves or be led away from their political faith They know that they can accomplish the political objects they are aiming at only by adhering to the party that represents their ideas and principles The froth and fury of a campaign the devices of small politicians the loud Democratic rhetoric which loads the air just before an election produces no effect upon them Below all these things are the principles to which they are attached and true Republicans will not be led by any device or pretext to sacrifice those principles

Their Motives

Mr David Logan who has joined the enemies of the party he has professed heretofore to belong to is a tool of Mr W S Ladd Mr Nesmith and other Democratic politicians He is taken into their councils furnished with their money and sent abroad to work for the repudiation party at their dictation With Mr Logan the motive is hatred of every man who is prominent in the Republican party with Mr Ladd and some others of the ring the idea is to get a Senator whom they can use for their own purposes They have jobs to be done and want Jo Smith or some other equally obedient servant to do them

The Price of Patriotism

As Mr W S Ladd has become a politician he cannot expect immunity from the treatment which politicians receive

He is now very active in appealing to the people of Portland to vote against the Republican party Why? Because he owns large amounts of stock or lands, in a military road so called which runs from Eugene City through the eastern [illegible] Oregon and he wanted a railroad to pass through it But the interests of the State and especially of the southern part of it were thought by Senator Williams to be superior to those of Mr Ladd and a few others in that so called military road grant In consequence the railroad grant was amended so as to come through Rogue river valley and Mr Ladd is greatly incensed thereat

When the repudiation platform of the Democratic party was first announced Mr Ladd thought it was an infamous thing Oregon [illegible] would be disgraced by the success of a party standing on such a platform But it now appears that he would rather repudiate the national debt than to lose the opportunity of profiting by some investments he has made in a military road so called

This military road is one of those land grabbing schemes by which so large a portion of the valuable lands of Oregon have passed into the hands of corporations without any benefit whatever to the State Millions of acres have thus been given away and no public improvements have resulted from them An expenditure of a few thousand dollars on what is called a military road which nobody ever travels or could travel over suffices to secure an untold extent of land to some corporation Then what good is it to the State? Absolutely none The Government might just as well have made the parties a present of the lands without any conditions But in the case of the Eugene City grant, the owners of the lands were not satisfied Mr Ladd and others wanted the Government to extend the grant so that a railroad could be located and built along the route and the cash value of the lands which they have received for nothing carried up to a high figure That would have kept them quiet in the campaign That would have caused them to decry the repudiation platform of the Democratic party But their wishes about this land grant were not fulfilled, and they conclude that repudiation and State and national dishonor is preferable to the success of the Republican party —unless they can gain something by that success

They talk about monopolies What have these gentlemen been heretofore but the monopolists who have controlled Oregon? What is now their purpose but to continue to control it? We do not allege this against them as a fault or wrong, but speak of it simply as an answer to the talk they are making that Oregon is being swallowed up by a monopoly The trouble with them is that the 'monopoly' they talk of is not controlled by them

If these gentlemen are so much interested in a west side road why have they not stepped forward and built it? Their resources and their credit are supposed to be ample for that purpose. Had they taken the part of the west side in the controversy that has been had between the rival railroads, and evinced a determination to back that enterprise up, it would have held the land grant that Mr Holladay has obtained and secured a railroad When the controversy took place in the Legislature in 1868 Mr Stout and the leading Democrats offered to vote for the west side if Mr Ladd and others who were responsible men would subscribe to the capital stock of the road instead of Mr Gaston who was not deemed responsible Why did they not accept the offer? As west side champions, interested in the development of the State, why did they not take hold of this enterprise when it needed their help and prevent Mr Holladay against whom they now evince so much hostility, and who, they say, is going to ruin the State, from getting a foothold here?

Mr. Ladd and other gentlemen here have had it in their power to greatly advance the interests of Oregon They have seen fit not to make use of their opportunities, which is strictly their own business But now when Mr Ladd makes his business interests a pretext for becoming a politician going back on his position against repudiation and appealing to everybody he meets to defeat the Republican party his course becomes a subject for legitimate criticism and it is due that people should know the facts about it

Mr Ladd is the head and front of this new assault on Senator Williams He has a press here subsidized for his purposes and it is fit that the people should know that his acres in the military road land grant are at the bottom of the matter When it comes to be known that an interest of this kind is the price of patriotism and the guide to a man's political action the case can be duly understood and appreciated

Take Care of Their Interests'

If Oregonians says the organ of the sore-head military road stockholders have a spark of courage and independence they will rise in their might on the 6th of June and strike down Williams and all his minions' Oh of course! And all to please a set of men who have never invested money in any great improvements for the development of the State but who have allowed the interests of Oregon to languish for want of that intrepidity, courage and faith in the country which would have led sagacious citizens to do something to build it up long ago They have grown to be what they are off the people and have never done anything worth telling in return These are the gentlemen whose interests are to be served exclusively

We would not be understood to say by any means that all the parties connected with the Eugene military grant are working in a scheme to defeat the Republican party simply because a railroad is not to be run where they want it A number of them are men whose business and politics are very different things and who do not make a land grant or some stock in a railroad the price of their fealty to the Republican party

David Logan who was once supposed to be a Republican has gone to Yamhill county with a buggy full of campaign Heralds and Democratic money He comes out boldly on the Democratic side and is working in close affiliation with Bill Newby and his other new found political friends As a politician he is the prince of ingrates The Republican party is now fully done with him

The decrease of the public debt during the month of May was between fourteen and fifteen millions Does not every month furnish the most convincing proof that the Government is in good hands? Republicans of Oregon! be true to your party, work for your principles and assist in upholding the Administration that is carrying the country forward so successfully

The Scheme Probed to the Bottom

By little and little the truth in regard to the great issue on railroads which has made so much of here for the purposes of the election is coming out The Fitch letter was telegraphed from here to Senator Williams who replies to it by telegraph in this way

> The Fitch letter is false He has stock in the Pengra road and is enraged because I defeated the scheme to rob Southern Oregon of a railroad

So much for the excellent Mr Fitch of Nevada, the tool of the Central Pacific railroad company We have now a pretty full explanation of this whole transaction The Oregon ring who are making so much noise about this matter have stock in a military road land grant and expected to get stock in a railroad running through it thus enhancing their gains beyond all calculation The creature of the Central Pacific company Fitch, was to have stock in the railroad too It was a very pretty game How much Congressman Smith expected to have in the scheme we have yet to learn but no doubt will soon find out The interests of Southern Oregon were to be sacrificed but it was expected by the ring that a very pretty thing would be made of it for their own gain They are balked in their expectations and very mad

The Military Road Company's Scheme

A railroad through Umpqua and Rogue valleys to have eastern connections, would fully serve all the western and southern parts of the State It would be as beneficial to that section of country east of the Cascade mountains as would a road from the Humboldt to Eugene through the lands of the military road company And it would serve the western and southern portions of the State even better because it would give railroad facilities to every part at once With two roads to the head of the Wallamet valley according to the design long had in view, and then a road through Umpqua and Rogue river valleys having eastern connections every want of the State would be fully met But Mr Ladd and some of the other gentlemen interested in the military road land grant that comes in at Eugene City might not like it The fight now is for the interests of the rest of Oregon against the military road company

Great "Losses"

The subsidized organ of the old Oregon ring the Herald whines pitifully about the losses of the 'old citizens of Oregon who have spent one hundred thousand dollars in building roads and getting ready to construct the Humboldt railroad One hundred thousand dollars! Bosh! If they have spent anything like that sum they spent it in buying up the stock of that pet Humboldt road swindle, and their present grief is that Senator Williams has considered the interests of the southern part of the State, instead of helping them to another grab

The Meeting at the Court House

At the court house last night the meeting was first addressed by Major Magone of Clackamas county who has accompanied the Gubernatorial candidates through the canvass of the State He gave some account of the canvass and the manner in which it had been conducted by Judge Reed and Mr Grover, on the part of the Democrats These gentlemen the speaker said changed their tack upon the "vital eighth resolution" In the northern counties of the Wallamet valley the resolution was seldom mentioned, except as to the equitable adjustment part, and to this Reed and Grover gave an interpretation to suit the locality In the extreme southern counties where bedrock Democracy prevailed over conservatism Mr Grover construed the resolution to mean the payment of from 35 to 40 cents on the dollar From Jackson county the news brought by Major Magone was most encouraging to Republicans Everything in that county indicates that the people will vindicate their character as honest men by voting against the repudiators He showed from a description of the country over which the proposed lines of railroad run there would be ten men benefitted by the change secured by Senator Williams where the line defeated would have been a benefit to one

At the close of Major Magone's remarks Jas O'Meara, Esq was introduced, and proceeded to discuss the principles of the Albany Platform party He said that no democrat who knew the history of his party could find one single enunciation of a democratic principle in that platform The Albany convention had taken the substance out of the party and left nothing but the shell The first proposition he ever heard to introduce Chinamen on this coast came from the democratic legislature in 1852 He showed that the democrats had changed face on this subject The very men who are making a howl against cheap labor in this country now are the same who sought for cheap labor a few years since by voting for the introduction of coolie or slave labor, and their howl now was only to catch votes—a piece of demagogism He then addressed the Republicans upon the question of railroads and other internal improvements in Oregon as it affected the vote of the people on next Monday showing that on the success of the Republican party all the material aid from the General Government could be naturally expected to depend

Mr O'Meara's remarks upon the position of the Republican party upon the subject of naturalization were exceedingly appropriate and proved that during the ten years which that party has controlled the government these laws had been made broader and more advantageous to all the nationalities He said the democratic party had always used the Irishman in this country as a means of getting into power and after election let them swing for themselves He also showed that the Herald's advice to Capt O'Rogan to stick to his last was a direct insult to every laboring man and especially to every Irishman

Taken altogether Mr O'Meara's speech was one of good sound sense and replete with logical deductions We are satisfied that every one who heard are convinced that he was sincere in everything he said

The lateness of the hour at which the meeting closed precludes us from giving a more extended notice of this speech and we will only add that it was the most telling and enthusiastically received speech of the campaign

Republicans of Washington Territory

As the day of the election approaches the perfidy of your opponents becomes more and more apparent The Democracy of your Territory are striving themselves to defeat a man unanimously chosen by your party as your standard bearer No irregularity in the Convention which nominated Mr Garfielde has been charged with any foundation in fact That he has labored faithfully to serve his constituents on the floor of Congress and to build up the enterprises of and advance the material interests of Washington Territory is well known to you all Then let no man who wishes well to his adopted home or desires the success of Republican principles be lax in the discharge of his duty Let no factionist deter you from standing firmly by your post in the hour of conflict Active work will crown you with a certain triumph and Monday's sun will set on the discomfited Mix ed Blinn sore-head Democracy of our sister Territory Let it be remembered that the bolters have not the slightest hope of electing Blinn and that every vote cast for him is half a vote for Mix, who will be compelled by his party if elected to oppose all your railroad interests and every other measure for the internal improvement and the development of the resources of your Territory

All the dust raised at the present time by the Democratic managers and their subsidized agents about railroads is kicked up merely for the purpose of making people forget the infamous repudiation platform adopted at Albany People should vote with the real facts of the situation in view No true Republican will be beguiled in this way by the Democrats

PERSONAL —We were glad to meet with Hon Jesse Applegate of Yoncalla in this city yesterday, looking very hearty indeed Uncle Jesse as he is familiarly called from one side of Oregon to the other is as enthusiastic as ever for the success of Republicanism and is particularly severe on the renegade Dave Logan who two years ago had no better friend in this world than Hon Jesse Applegate He says that the railroad question is in the right shape and the people of Southern Oregon particularly appreciate the favorable action of Senator Williams in their behalf

Hon Cyrus Olney telegraphs that he was at Chicago May 31st on his way to Oregon He will probably not be here before the election

BODY FOUND —In the morning of Wednesday last, as the men were proceeding with the work of setting the pile driver to drive piles along the line of the railroad survey at East Portland, a body clothed in black pants and red shirt, was discovered floating in the water beneath the [illegible] office of Messrs Stephens & Loryea. An alarm was speedily given and hundreds of [illegible] turned out eager to recover the body which was finally reached and rescued from the watery grave when it was found to be the remains of somebody's old wardrobe stuffed with straw! Imagine the [illegible] looks of the people when they learned that their sympathies had been lavished upon a man of straw

VERY LOW DOWN In past years political excitement has run very high in our community but never before did party managers get so low down as to do such dirty tricks as was done in this city yesterday Posters were put up in the afternoon announcing that Mr O'Meara would speak at the court house in the evening Later in the day the Democrats posted notices of their [illegible] ing at the Cosmopolitan Hotel over the former, all through the city A good many mean tricks may have been played in politics in Multnomah county but none before so utterly contemptible as this GRATITUDE We observe in the Register of the 28th, a card expressive of the gratitude of Mr W H Troup to Mr C A Rogers a private of Company C 23d Infantry who at the peril of his own life rescued little Mollie Mr Troup's daughter, from the peril of drowning, recently at Vancouver W T It will be recollected that a little companion of Mollie [illegible] her life at that time and it was a hair breadth escape for her whom Mr Rogers saved Mr Troup rewarded the saver of his child with a purse of gold and all the gratitude that a fond father fills his breast.

CITY.

[illegible] or Pop Guns.—In order to detract [illegible] the meeting at the Court House last evening and keep as many Democrats as possible [illegible] hearing the address of Mr. O'Meara, a [illegible] of the Bed-Rock Repudiationists was improvised to suit the occasion, in front of the Cosmopolitan Hotel. Whilst the street was full of ladies and gentlemen, passing from the Washington Guard picnic to their homes, John Henry [illegible] the "maxim" given out by the [illegible] Capt. O'Hagan. The words are not [illegible]. In the heat of the discussion, [illegible] the stamp and asked the crowd if [illegible] class of voters to be bought. About [illegible] voices sounded the chorus, "No!" Just [illegible] shout went up, "Buy me!" "Buy me!" [illegible] hundred throats, and it created a [illegible], but like the "maxim" for Mr. [illegible], this shout was interpreted to mean that [illegible] wanted to hear Mr. Bybee, and that it [illegible] "Buy me," that was being [illegible]. At this stage of the game we left the [illegible] the "Great Democratic Demonstration," [illegible] undoubtedly be reported this morning [illegible] been held last night in this city.

[illegible] Guard Picnic.—The day was [illegible], and the turn out quite large, [illegible] at Bolivian Grove yesterday. The [illegible] Band was in attendance, and the [illegible] Guard turned out in full force in full [illegible]. The Emmet Guard was represented, [illegible] unavoidably prevented from attending, and a gentleman whom we had engaged [illegible] report of the proceedings for us was at [illegible] prevented from going, by business [illegible] home, so we are without a report this [illegible]. The appearance of the excursionists, [illegible] in the evening, was evidence [illegible] the day had been well spent. There was a [illegible] proportion of ladies, and many little ones, [illegible] at the landing. The O. S. N. [illegible] Julia, Capt. Wm. Dierdorff, conveyed the party to and from the Grove.

Uncle Jesse, [illegible] called from one side of Oregon [illegible] enthusiastic as ever for the success [illegible], and is particularly severe [illegible] Dave Logan, who two years ago [illegible] friend in this world than Hon. [illegible] Down.—In past years political excitement [illegible] very high in our community, [illegible] party managers get so low [illegible] dirty tricks as was done in [illegible] Posters were put up in the [illegible] that Mr. O'Meara would [illegible] in the evening. Later [illegible] the Democrats posted notices of their [illegible] Cosmopolitan Hotel over the for- [illegible] the city. [illegible]—It is not of the slightest use [illegible] any longer send the pro- [illegible] making establishments to Oregon. [illegible] put up in Boston has been on [illegible] side with a similar sample of [illegible] at Westport, at the store of [illegible] in this city, for some days. The [illegible] is in preference for the home [illegible]

[illegible]—We presume that the picnic at [illegible] Park, on Sunday, will be the [illegible] yet that ever came off in Portland, or [illegible] in the State. As will be seen by [illegible] column, prizes will be awarded [illegible] various amusements, which have been [illegible] in a very extensive manner. Music [illegible] throughout by the 23d Infantry [illegible]

[illegible] City.—The Republican rally at [illegible] City night before last is said by those [illegible] present, to have been a grand success. [illegible] Hon. J. F. Caples is spoken of as [illegible] replete with interest and full of good [illegible] eloquence. The Republicans of Clackamas [illegible] are jubilant over the prospect of [illegible]

[illegible] Speak.—It is understood that Col. Chapman will make a speech at the Court House this [illegible] which railroad questions will be discussed. It is well known that Col. Gentlemen at the theaters who find a trouble in the throat at the end of each act are rarely carried away by the malady further than the best tipple resort.

The proprietor of a store on Front street was applied to yesterday to learn the rent of a huge trunk in front of his establishment. It was regarded as of ample capacity for a "cottage by the sea."

Music is said to soothe the savage breast; so does a shirt. Many a man well on to the verge of the savage may be made as gentle as a dove or lamb (roasted or boiled) by a clean, nice-fitting garment of the character just named. It is a great soother and civilizer, is the shirt. Gentlemen who are strangers to the luxury should try on a few by way of experiment.

PASSENGERS FOR PORTLAND.—The Moses Taylor sailed for this city yesterday morning. The following passenger list was telegraphed to the Commercial. NEW FIRM.—Notice appears elsewhere in this paper, by the firm of J. Kraemer & Co., which expresses a good principle. It will be seen that two very worthy young men, Messrs. R. Aiken and F. S. Aiken, have been taken into partnership with the original proprietor. Success attend the new firm.

THE TAYLOR STREET CHURCH.—We learn that the work of finishing up the Taylor street M. E. Church is progressing rapidly. The lathing is finished, and the contract for plastering has been let, to be immediately commenced.

The Railroad Question.

EUGENE CITY, June 1, 1870.

ED. OREGONIAN:

Your neighbor of the Herald in his last two issues is uncommonly severe on the course pursued by Senator Williams in procuring an amendment to the Humboldt railroad bill requiring it to connect with the O. & C. R. R. in Rogue river valley.

I cannot comprehend the policy of urging this objection with so much vehemence just at this time, because if the argument is good for anything at all it ought to secure for Williams' friends and his party every vote south of the Calapooia mountains, while it ought not to lose him one anywhere, unless it should be a few shareholders in the stock of the Humboldt road. The idea of building two lines of railroad through the State at present, is simply preposterous. No amount of legislation can do it. It requires 20-dollar pieces, and it is far better to encourage the one now struggling, than to do all possible to injure that one by talking glibly about two. In yesterday's Herald, moreover, a fruit of the repudiation policy formerly advocated by that paper, but not recently, was developed by the publication of an item from Berlin to the effect that our local bonds issued in a State advocating repudiation were questionable security unless endorsed by the Government. Perhaps no more could be sold, and so that enterprise might be seriously interrupted.

For one, I cannot see how it is that Oregon is not benefitted in the highest degree by bringing the point of divergence from the great thoroughfare where the travel is to ultimately divide between California and Oregon, just as far west as possible. Evidently we can then compete with California much more successfully, and I can easily see many great advantages in the Williams amendment to the people of the State at large.

So far as the accusation goes, that Williams is the mere tool of Holladay in the strife now pending between Mr. H. and the Central Pacific for the monopoly of the railroad interests in Oregon, that again is a two edged sword, and if the argument of the Herald proves anything it proves too much, because it shows by publishing the letters of Smith and Fitch that they, by the same logic, are the mere tools of the C. P. R. R. Co. and doing their bidding. Having voted for Mr. Smith to go into his present position, I am unwilling to believe any such thing, and however much I may dislike Mr. W. politically, I am loth to believe any such thing of him. Fitch, I do not know but his violent expressions in regard to a matter he evidently has some particular interest in, betray some improper influence somewhere; so the intimations of the Herald are peculiarly unfortunate. I cannot but conclude that this attack on Mr. W., in his absence, at this time, is wholly uncalled for and unfair; and so also that of Mr. Pengra, who is making speeches now in Lane county in precisely the same line as the Herald. When the Legislature meets, if Williams is a candidate for U. S. Senator, and cannot defend his course, then let him go down and Pengra or some other man be elected.

From San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—A letter from Duncan Mills, Russian River, dated May 30, states that there is a schooner lying on her beam's end about two miles below the mouth of Russian river and half a mile from shore. Her masts are standing but the rigging on the port side is carried away. The name of the vessel could not be ascertained.

A preliminary examination for admission to the naval academy at Annapolis will be held in this city June 15th, at 12 M. in the court rooms of the City Hall. All candidates must be between 14 and 18 years of age, and pass a satisfactory examination in writing, spelling, reading, arithmetic, geography and English grammar. A committee of well known gentlemen will conduct the examination, and upon their certificate and a recommendation for appointment made by Hon. S. B. Axtell, M. C., one candidate can be appointed.

The Mission and Twenty-sixth street railroad will be commenced immediately.

The Eureka mine, Grass Valley, have declared a dividend of $7 50 for May and an extra one of the same amount payable June 7th.

Ten thousand tickets in the Mercantile Library Lottery sold yesterday and 5,000 to-day, when the sale was suspended until to-morrow on account of not having more tickets printed. One house in New York to-day ordered 1,000 and offered to take $10,000 worth if a sufficient discount be allowed. The worst anticipations as to its demoralizing effect on the community is more than realized. Several girls and their employers, clerks, schoolboys, merchants and church dignitaries crowd each other in the scramble for tickets. Brokers have them for sale in their windows, and men are walking all around the city with handsful of tickets, retailing them. Large buyers have been heard to declare that if they do not draw prizes they will instantly sue for return money, on the ground of the lottery being unconstitutional. The question is bound to be tested in the courts in some shape.

The Japan carried $800,000 in treasure, mostly Mexican dollars and silver bars.

It is feared this evening that Mrs. Brown, of Folsom, injured at the Cliff House, by being thrown from a buggy last evening, will not recover. She has not spoken since the accident.

There are 785 prisoners now in San Quentin.

Jos. W. Tripp, a lawyer, had three ribs broken and was otherwise injured in trying to stop a runaway team on the corner of Market and Mason streets, to-day.

Eighteen 50 varas on Clay and Sacramento, Webster and Filmore streets was sold to a real estate association, to-day, for $30,000.

The weather this evening closes sultry.

From present indications, more persons will visit Yosemite in June this year than any previous year.

The Boston Excursionists.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 2.—The Bostonians had a gala time at the Cliff House to-day. They turned half of a bottle of Atlantic water into the Pacific, producing no visible rise in the latter ocean, then filled the bottle up with Pacific water. Part of the mingled water is to be taken back to Massachusetts, the other part being used on the spot in the baptism of a female baby named Mary Elizabeth Brown, by Rev. Mr. Waterson. "America" was sung, a benediction given, etc. They were much disappointed at not seeing the sea lion "Ben Butler," who actually died three years ago, but were partially comforted when told that he had been on the rocks waiting for them all morning, had got tired and went fishing, but would probably be back in a day or two. They will dine with Ralston to-morrow.

Manufactory Established in June, 1851.

STEAM POWER, NOS. 638 AND 637 FRONT ST.

HAS CONSTANTLY ON HAND GROUND AND ROASTED COFFEE, GREEN COFFEE of the best qualities, CREAM OF TARTAR and SPICES of all sorts.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here, and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day we see increasing the number of those who, by counterfeit or imitation of his mark, seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned, and placed on their guard against this practice.

Count Flahault de la Villarderie

[illegible] the Emperor Napoleon [illegible] The Count was born in [illegible] His father [illegible] England [illegible] the education [illegible] during the campaign of Auster[litz] [illegible] After the battle of W[agram] [illegible] during the campaign [illegible] gallantry during the R[ussian campaign] [illegible]

He passed in fifteen days of [illegible] a short time previously been elevated to the post of General of Brigade. It was at Lepsic that he attracted the attention of Napoleon, where he fought as Aid de Camp attached to the Emperor's own person. In 1814 he recognized the Provisional Government, but on the return of Napoleon from Elba he returned to his post of Aid de Camp, and served with him in the memorable battle of Waterloo. On the fall of Napoleon the Count retired to Switzerland. He remained but a short time, and then went to England, where in 1817 he married the daughter of Lord Keith. The revolution of 1830 restored Count Flahault his peerage and rank in the army of France. In 1841 he was named Embassador Plenipotentiary to Berlin. He was with the Duke of Orleans at the siege of Antwerp, and on the marriage of that Prince he was appointed his Equerry. He was appointed Embassador [to] Vienna in 1841, a post which he held until the downfall of the Orleans dynasty. In 1853 the present Emperor created him a Senator, and honored him still further in 1860 by sending him as Embassador to England. This position he held only two years, being succeeded by Baron Gros in 1862. Two years later the Emperor appointed him French Grand Chancellor of the Legion of Honor. With the death of Count Flahault has passed away a man distinguished as a soldier and diplomat under the first and second empire. He figured conspicuously during a long life in the eventful career of the French nation under the two Napoleons, and in the fullness of his years has passed away, regretted and honored by the nation he so fondly loved.

Death in the Lamp.—From the Cincinnati Gazette, May 17th, we take the following:

The warning that handling of coal oil near a light is like smoking a pipe over an open powder keg has been repeated how often? It may be done again and again with impunity, but danger always stands by the performance, while the catastrophe delay, though it may, is sure to come.

Within a twelvemonth we have recorded a number of fires, more or less destructive, that originated in perhaps not absolute carelessness, but in the absence of the utmost caution in handling or filling coal oil lamps. Then horrid burnings and the loss of life from the same cause, during the same period, have been far from infrequent. The last fatal instance of this practice in our midst took place at Fairmount on Sunday night. Tobias Rossi, an Italian portrait painter, at his residence, at 8 o'clock in the evening, undertook to fill his coal oil lamp while it was burning. He used the usual precaution—one that he had observed often before. The blaze was not allowed to come in contact with the oil. A slight current of air this time turned the gas or the vapor of the oil to the blaze. It ignited at once and leaped down into the lamp and the can. The explosion that followed covered Rossi with the inflammable liquid, and and set it ablaze. Three of his children were in the room and saw the terrible situation. The alarm was not delayed, and help came quickly, but too late. From the moment of the catastrophe all human aid would have counted as nothing to save the man. He was fearfully burned. At half past four o'clock yesterday morning, after hours of dreadful agony, he died. He was forty-nine years of age, and had lived eighteen years in the house in which he died. He leaves a wife and six children. None of the children who witnessed the accident were injured, though in the same room and near him. Dr Tidball was called and did all he could for the suffering man. There was nothing left him to do but relieve the sufferer's pain. The verdict of the Coroner's jury was in accordance with the above facts.

The Stone Face in the Desert.—In the mountain around which we had passed on the last day's journey from Gila Bend is to be seen, plainly and distinctly, the face of a man, reclining, with his eyes closed as though in sleep. Among the most beautiful of all the legends told here, is that concerning this face. It is Montezuma's face, so the Indians believe (even those in Mexico, who have never seen the image), and he will awaken from his long sleep some day, will gather all the brave and faithful around him, raise and uplift his downtrodden people, and restore to his kingdom the old power and and the old glory—as it was, before the Hidalgos invaded it. So strong is this belief in some parts of Mexico that people who passed through that country years ago tell me of some localities where fires were kept constantly burning in anticipation of Montezuma's early coming. It looks as though the stern face up there was just a little softened in its expression by the deep slumber that holds the eyelids over the commanding eye, and all Nature seems hushed into death-like stillness. Day after day, year after year, century after century slumbers the man up there on the height, and life and vegetation sleep on the arid plains below—a slumber never disturbed, a sleep never broken, for the battle cry of Yuma, Pimo and Maricopa that once rang at the foot of the mountain did not reach Montezuma's ear, and the dying shrieks of the children of those who came far over the seas to rob him of his sceptre and crown fall unheeded on the rocks and the leser's that guard his sleep.—From "Crossing the Arizona Desert," in Overland Monthly for June.

The Senators and their Clothes.—I wish that most of the Senators would wear better clothes. It would not disturb my individual peace if every man here looked like a scarecrow. But as a sovereign citizen I have both pride and prejudice concerning the high assembly. I have a disinterested desire that every man in it should represent the finest type of American Gentlemanhood; that he should act as a gentleman, dress like a gentleman, and keep his hands out of his pockets. This is what very few of the Senators [illegible] Most of them [illegible] pockets. To see a dozen or two men thus posed at once, and a great number carelessly or unbecomingly attired, is sufficient to detract very considerably from the appearance of the assembly as an assembly. It does not add to the Senatorial picture either to see through the open cloak room door a company of these august statesmen [illegible] in their chairs, their feet on the [illegible] mouths full of cigars, their heads enveloped in smoke. Of course nobody questions their right to smoke at the [illegible] time and place, but gentleman [illegible] within sight of the Senate galleries.

American Shipping.—We are glad to perceive that those who have been groaning so persistently at the decline of American tonnage are beginning to reap consolation from a revival of the shipping interest. The Washington correspondent of the New York Herald says:

The applications received from the [illegible] at the Bureau of statistics for [illegible] official numbers and signal letters represented an aggregate of [illegible] tons. They are as follows: three large schooners from San Francisco, two large steamers from [illegible] Illinois, one steamer from Philadelphia, one large schooner from Port Huron, Michigan, four large vessels from New York, one large ship, three steamers and twenty others of different classes, from Detroit, Michigan, making an aggregate of about sixty-five vessels.

TO THE UNFORTUNATE.

NEW REMEDIES, NEW REMEDIES.

Dr Gibbon's Dispensary,

623 KEARNEY STREET, NEAR COMMERCIAL, San Francisco. Established 1854, for the treatment of Sexual and Seminal Diseases, such as Gonorrhea, Gleet, Stricture, Syphilis in all its forms, Seminal Weakness, Impotency, etc. Skin Diseases (of years standing) and Ulcerated Legs successfully treated.

Horrible Disease.

How many thousands of persons, both male and female, are there who are suffering out a miserable existence from the effects of secret indulgences or from virus absorbed into the system. Look at their pallid, emaciated and disfigured faces and their broken-down constitutions, disqualifying them for the happiness of marriage or the enjoyment of life. In this horrid situation thousands suffer until death closes the scene. Let parents, guardians, friends attend to those who are suffering with any of these horrible life-destroying maladies—see that they are cared for and cured before it be too late. Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon, a physician who has made private disease his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of eminent physicians from Europe and other places. Be therefore careful and make strict inquiry or you may fall into the hands of those charlatans.

Seminal Weakness.

Seminal Emissions, the consequence of self-abuse. This solitary vice or depraved sexual indulgence is practiced by the youth of both sexes to an almost unlimited extent, producing with unerring certainty the following train of morbid symptoms, unless combated by scientific medical measures, viz: Sallow countenance, dark spots under the eyes, pain in the head, ringing in the ears, noise like the rustling of leaves and rattling of chariots, uneasiness about the loins, weakness of the limbs, confused vision, blunted intellect, loss of confidence, diffidence in approaching strangers, a dislike to form new acquaintances, a disposition to shun society, loss of memory, hectic flushes, pimples and various eruptions about the face, furred tongue, fetid breath, coughs, consumption, night sweats, monomania and frequent insanity. If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of affecting a quick and radical cure. Dr G. will give One Hundred Dollars to any person who will prove satisfactorily to him that he was cured of his complaint by either of the San Francisco quacks.

MARRIED MEN,

Or those who contemplate marriage, who are suffering under any of those fearful maladies, should not forget the sacred responsibility resting upon them nor delay obtaining immediate relief.

DOCTOR GIBBON is responsible, and will give to each patient a written instrument binding himself to effect a radical and permanent cure, or make no charge.

CURED AT HOME.

Persons at a distance may be CURED AT HOME by addressing a letter to Dr. Gibbon, stating case, symptoms, length of time the disease has continued, and have medicines promptly forwarded, free from damage and curiosity, to any part of the country, with full and plain directions for use, for Ten Dollars sent in registered letter or through Wells, Fargo & Co.

Caution to the Unfortunate.

Beware of the San Francisco quacks and pretenders who with bogus sworn certificates dupe the unwary. Some of the self-styled doctors whose names are to be found in the daily and weekly newspapers of San Francisco and other places are tradesmen, and became too lazy to work at their trades. Some are tinsmiths, shoemakers, newspaper carriers, intelligence office keepers, etc. Look over the San Francisco Directory and you will not find their Medical Institutes in it, but you will find their former occupations in it. Look at the Directory for 1852 and 1853. The only way to avoid imposition is to make inquiry—it will cost you nothing, and may save you many regrets, for as advertising physicians in eight cases out of ten are bogus, there is no safety in trusting any of them unless you know who and what they are. Dr. Gibbon does not deceive people by exhibiting bogus certificates, or recommended patients' letters, etc. Dr. Gibbon will satisfy persons who may call at his office of his ability to treat diseases that he proposes to cure.

Address DR. J. F. GIBBON, 623 Kearney street, corner Commercial (Private Entrance on Commercial), San Francisco. Post Office Box 252.

REMEMBER TO PUT BOX 252 ON THE LETTER. Consultations FREE.
